

Steve Hyland, MEM, CQA, CQE, CRE, CQM

Steve Hyland has over 30 years of industrial experience predominately in manufacturing as an engineer, quality manager and production manager. Steve recently joined ABB Inc. Asea Brown-Boveri the at their Medium Voltage Transformer plant as a senior quality engineer.

His experience has been in the Electrical, Electronic, HVAC/Refrigeration, Foundry and Auto Industries and he has also taught quality classes part time in the evening at SLU and local technical colleges in the area.

Steve has taught our certifications classes for over five years.

Steve holds a Masters in Engineering Management (MEM) and a Bachelor of Technology in Mechanical Technology (BTMT) from Washington University and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Management (BSEM) from the University of Missouri at Rolla. (now Missouri S&T)

Steve holds a number of ASQ certifications including Certified Quality Manager (CQM), Quality Auditor (CQA), Quality Engineer (CQE), Certified Reliability Engineer (CRE) and Certified Quality Inspector (CQI).